AREA OF EXPERTISE

Adam K. Tischer joined Colliers in January 2011. He will serve as vice president based in Colliers' DTLA office.

He specializes in representing large corporate investment and developer clients in the Downtown Los Angeles market, and has completed commercial real estate transactions totaling approximately $100 million.

PROFESSIONAL ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Co-headed CB Richard Ellis' Los Angeles Urban Redevelopment Group with the group's founder, Mark Tarczyński.
- Represented large corporate investment clients and landlords, including Bank of America, The Trammell Crow Company, Forest City Enterprises, and Good Samaritan Hospital Los Angeles.
- Awarded CB Richard Ellis' prestigious Rookie of the Year award in 2008, which is given to the highest-producing broker within their first year.

BUSINESS AND EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND

Prior to joining Colliers, he served as senior associate in CB Richard Ellis' Los Angeles office.

Prior to that, Adam was the Southern California Regional Sales Manager for the bottled water company, Trinity Springs, Ltd. In 2003, Trinity Springs was the number one-selling noncarbonated bottled water in all natural food stores, including Whole Foods and Wild Oats. Adam managed a team of four sales professionals and was primarily responsible for increasing existing business and introducing the product to new markets. Adam successfully introduced the product to Trader Joe's – Western United States, and the University of Southern California. From 2001 to 2003, Adam increased sales by over 94% in his region.

Adam studied History at the University of Southern California.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

His personal interests include skiing, golfing, fly fishing, biking. He also volunteers at Children's Hospital Los Angeles.
